RE: Resignation

Please accept this letter as notice of my formal resignation from the court as HR Director. It is important to note that I have thoroughly enjoyed my experiences over nearly eight years working for the court. Endless learning opportunities unfolded during this portion of my career, and out of all of them I learned an invaluable lesson: to know myself and trust my intuition unconditionally. I worked to impart and share this wisdom with all those I encountered as a professional.

I am proud to be able to depart knowing I have served myself, the court and the community well- and take pride in knowing the undeniable mark the HR team and I made along the way. The HR team we forged is top-notch, as it exemplifies integrity and leadership excellence. It is bittersweet to bid my team and treasured colleagues farewell, but I will remember them fondly and wish them continued success.
